Have Now Ready or Nearly Ready :

ENGLISH LITERATURE IN THE REIGN OF VICTORIA.

WITH A GLANCE AT THE PAST. By HENRY MORLEY, Professor of English Literature in the University of London.

Authorized American Editions.

The Popular Edition. Square 16mo, cloth extra, $1.25. The Library Edition (printed from larger type). 8vo. Uniform with Taylor's "German Literature." $2. Each edition contains fac-similes of the signatures of some 250 of the authors whose works are considered.

"Literature, of all things upon earth the most significant, is no chance feast of scraps; it is the best utterance of the mind of a people which has its embodiment in deeds set forth by the historian. But the present thoughts of a man cannot be fairly interpreted without some knowledge of the thoughts that led to them."—Extract from Author's Preface.

A New Work by De Amicis.

MOROCCO :

ITS PLACES AND ITS PEOPLES. By EDMUNDO DE AMICIS. 8vo, fully illustrated. Uniform with "Holland" and "Spain." $2.

NEW BOOKS

Published in 1881, by

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON, 714 Broadway, New York.

I.—LIFE AND SPEECHES OF JOHN BRIGHT.

By G. Barnett Smith. Two Steel Portraits. 1 vol., crown 8vo, cloth, 708 pages, $2.50.

The London Times says: "This work will be welcomed by a large number of readers. The author has taken great pains to make the work at once accurate and full. He has evidently had access to private sources of information, for he gives accounts of Mr. Bright's personal life that it would otherwise not have been possible to give."

II.—THE NATURE AND FUNCTION OF ART.

By Leopold Eidlitz. 1 vol., 8vo, 510 pages, cloth, $4.

"Mr. E. is a writer of remarkable strength and originality. The work deals with the subject so broadly, that any reader of artistic tendencies will find a fascination in its pages."—Boston Evening Transcript.

III.—HISTORY OF RELIGION IN ENGLAND. From the Opening of the Long Parliament to the End of the 18th Century.

By John Stoughton, D.D. 6 vols., crown 8vo, cloth, $15; comprising:

- I. CHURCH OF THE CIVIL WARS.
- II. CHURCH OF THE COMMONWEALTH.
- III. AND IV. CHURCH OF THE RESTORATION.
- V. CHURCH OF THE REVOLUTION.
- VI. CHURCH IN THE GEORGIAN ERA.

IV.—ARMSTRONG'S PRIMER OF UNITED STATES HISTORY.

1 vol., with 6 beautifully colored (double-page) maps, cloth, 50 cents.

"A model historical primer, full in its statements, discriminating in its selection of events, clear and direct in its style, and comprehensive in its general outline of American affairs. The value of such a book is apparent at a glance. Of large histories of the United States there is no lack, but of shorter histories there is great need. It represents an amount of work of which its brief pages give no adequate impression."

Two New Volumes of the Series of

V.—HEROES OF CHRISTIAN HISTORY:

- I. LIFE OF THOMAS CHALMERS, D.D. By Donald Fraser, D.D.
 - II. LIFE OF ROBERT HALL, D.D. By E. Paxton Hood.
- In 12mo vols., cloth, 75 cents each.

Volumes Previously Published:

- WILLIAM WILBERFORCE. By Dr. J. Stoughton.
- HENRY MARTIN. By Dr. Chas. D. Bell.
- PHILIP DODDRIDGE. By Dr. Chas. Stanford.

A New Library Edition of

VI.—MILMAN'S COMPLETE WORKS.

With Table of Contents and full Indexes. Printed from large type, on laid paper, 8 vols., crown 8vo, strongly bound in extra cloth, price $12 per set (reduced from $24.50). Comprising:

- HISTORY OF THE JEWS. 2 vols.
- HISTORY OF CHRISTIANITY. 2 vol.
- HISTORY OF LATIN CHRISTIANITY. 4 vols.

Uniform with the Standard Edition of Hallam, Lamb, Milman and Disraeli:

VII.—HISTORY OF THE CRUSADES.

By Joseph François Michaud. A New Edition, with a Supplementary Chapter, by Hamilton W. Mabie. 3 vols., crown 8vo. Printed on laid paper, cloth, $3.75.

VIII.—RAPHAEL: His Life, His Works, and His Times.

Illustrated with 155 Engravings and 43 full-page Plates. One imperial 8vo volume, 620 pages. From the French of Eugene Muntz. Edited by Walter Armstrong. Handsomely bound in half morocco, gilt top, or full gilt edges, $15; turkey morocco, $20; tree calf or crushed levant, $22.50 (in a box).

"As a holiday book it has the rare merit of being sumptuous in appearance and authoritative in contents. It is a mine of correct information."—N. Y. Eve. Post.

IX.—A PICTURESQUE TOUR IN PICTURESQUE LANDS.

France, Spain, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium, Tyrol, Italy, Scandinavia. By Mrs. Seguin. A magnificent imperial folio volume. With 170 Engravings, many of them full-page Plates from designs by the most celebrated painters. Richly ornamented cloth, full gilt (in a neat box), $10; turkey morocco, $20.

Fine Art Gift-Books for Young People.

UNIFORM WITH "AFTERNOON TEA."

X.—THE MAY BLOSSOM; or, The Princess and Her People.

64 full-page Illustrations. 4to volume, handsomely bound, $2.50. Quite in advance of its predecessors in engraving, original designs, and color-printing, executed by Dalziel Brothers, from original paintings.

XI.—SHAKSPEARIAN TALES IN VERSE.

A Rhyming Version of some of the popular Plays of Shakspeare. 100 full pages of colored and other Illustrations, from original designs. Royal 4to volume, elegantly bound in cloth, full gilt, $3.

ESPECIALLY IN THE UNITED STATES.

By THEODORE D. WOOLSEY, D.D., LL.D.

1 vol., 12mo, $1.75.

A new edition of President Woolsey's book has become necessary to embody the fresh information which has come to light since the book was first published. The wide interest felt in the subject, and the literature which has appeared of late bearing upon it, are mainly in consequence of the discussion started by this work a dozen years ago. The first half of the book, bearing upon the general question of Divorce and its laws in other countries, remains intact. The latter part, treating of the laws and statistics of Divorce in this country, has been entirely rewritten.

II

THE PRINCIPLES OF CHURCH POLITY.

By Professor GEORGE T. LADD, D.D.

1 vol., crown 8vo, cloth, $2.50.

This volume is the final and permanent form of a course of lectures on church polity, which have attracted unusual interest and have had a wide influence. The subject is treated in a thoroughly fresh and original way, upon a broad and comprehensive plan, aiming to give a philosophical analysis of the principles which should enter into any scheme of church polity, and then to show how far these principles have been acknowledged and illustrated in modern Congregationalism.

III.

TWO NEW VOLUMES OF THE NEW EDITION OF

Dr. HOLLAND'S COMPLETE WRITINGS.

EVERY-DAY TOPICS. First Series.

EVERY-DAY TOPICS. (Now First Published.) Second Series.

Each, 12mo. $1.25.

The second of these volumes of Dr. Holland's miscellaneous didactic writings is composed of essays now for the first time gathered into a book, and consists, like the First Series, published five or six years ago, of careful selections from the department of "Topics of the Time," in the magazine of which he was so long and efficiently the guiding spirit. Subjects of only transient interest find no place in these pages; but the topics discussed have a wide range, and are attractive and interesting.

NOTES IN SEASON.

GEO. A. LEAVITT & Co. announce that the Spring trade sale will commence early in April next. Invoices or lists of books for the sale—comprising titles, quantities, retail prices, and style of binding—should be mailed before the 15th of February.

FORDS, HOWARD & HULBERT announce that, owing to the crowding of advance orders, and in order to treat all customers fairly, they have been obliged to postpone the publication of Judge Tourgee's new book, "John Eax," until the 8th of February.

R. WORTHINGTON will publish at once Prof. Richard A. Proctor's "Familiar Science Studies." Another promised publication of this house is a translation by L. Hearn of divers poems of Theophile Gautier's, including his "Nuit de Cleopatre."

ROBERTS BROTHERS will publish next week "Dorothy," an English story in elegiac verse. The heroine is a "horny-handed" maiden, instead of the customary countess or delicate blonde; and, consequently, a new and very interesting element enters into the story, which readers find decidedly engaging. With "Dorothy" will appear "School Sermons" preached to the boys of Adams Academy, at Quincy, Mass., by Dr. William Everett, master of the Academy and son of Edward Everett.

WILLIAM WOOD & Co. have issued vol. I of the proposed six volumes which will constitute their important "International Encyclopædia of Surgery." This great work, edited by Dr. John Ashurst, Jr., of the University of Pennsylvania, will be a valuable contribution to surgical literature and will be copiously illustrated. They have also ready an American edition of "Memoranda of Physiology," by Henry Ashley, M.D., of London, and the "Clinical Hand-book of the Diseases of Women," by Dr. W. Symington Brown.

CHAS. SCRIBNER'S SONS will bring out on Feb. 1 Prof. Ladd's "Principles of Church Polity," which, though specially referring to the connection of this subject with modern Congregationalism, will be found alike interesting and valuable to all students of existing religious methods. They will also publish a new volume of some of the miscellaneous didactic writings of Dr. Holland, which will form the second series of his "Every-Day Topics," selected from his practical "Topics" of Scribner's Monthly. Another important work underlined for the same date is the new edition of President Woolsey's "Divorce and Divorce Legislation." The second part of the book has been re-written and the volume now embodies the freshest information on the subject.

HARPER & BROS. have in press a treatise on the "Law of Stock Brokers and Stock Exchanges," by Mr. John R. Dos Passos; "A Manual of Historical Literature," by Charles Kendall Adams, LL.D.; and "Old Greek Education," by J. P. Mahaffy. They will also publish "Atlantis, the Antediluvian World," by Mr. Ignatius Donnelly. They have issued this week the second volume of Westcott and Hort's Greek "New Testament," containing the introduction and appendix by the editors; also a new edition of the first volume; and "A History of Educational Theories," by Oscar Brown-ing. In the Franklin Square Library they have just ready "The Marriages of the Bonapartes," by Hon. D. A. Bingham; and Mackenzie's admirable condensed "History of America."

SCRIBNER & WELFORD will shortly begin the publication of a new series of Artist Biographies, which will differ from the old issues in that it will be less expensive, and contain fewer illustrations. Mr. J. W. Mollett opens the series with a memoir and an account of the daily life of Meissonier, whose genius will be represented by reproductions of eight of his most characteristic paintings. Miss Ellen E. Minor will discuss Murillo in the second volume, and five other competent pens are busy with as many other artists. Messrs. Scribner & Welford call attention to their new books received, among which is a new edition of William Blades' "Biography and Typography of William Caxton," a book which should be in the private library of every bookseller as well as on his shelves for sale.

DODD, MEAD & Co. issue this week a new edition of Prof. Jas. M. Hoppin's "Homiletics," which originally appeared under the title of "The Office and Work of the Christian Ministry." The author has thought best "to treat the whole subject in two separate volumes, each of them complete in itself, so that this first volume upon 'Homiletics' will, it is intended, be followed by another upon 'Pastoral Theology,' thus comprehending the two principal themes of practical theology." The work has been greatly enlarged and in some parts wholly re-written, while much of the matter is entirely new. They have also issued a new edition of Mrs. Lydia Maria Child's "Memoir of Isaac T. Hopper," which has been out of print for a long time and which will prove extraordinary reading at this day. They have in preparation a book on the "Cultivation of the Rose," by H. B. Ellwanger, of Rochester, whose wide experience in floriculture entitles him to speak authoritatively on the subject. They have also in preparation the fourth volume in Rawlinson's Ancient Monarchies series; and Rawlinson's "History of Ancient Egypt," in two volumes, uniform with their edition of the author's "Five Great Monarchies."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.

In this list, the titles in bracket are direct transcriptions from books actually received, according to the rule of the American Library Association; those in nonpareil are from the best information available, and will be repeated in bracket when the book is received for registry.

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A. Augustus; B. Benjamin; C. Charles; D. David; E. Edward; F. Frederic; G. George; H. Henry; I. Isaac; J. John; L. Louis; N. Nicholas; P. Peter; R. Richard; S. Samuel; T. Thomas; W. William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. folio: over 30 centimeters high; Q. quarto: under 30 cm.; O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (8mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); TT. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obli., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights. Where figure instead of letter symbols are used, the record is from publisher's designation, and not measurement.

Imported books are marked with an asterisk; authors' and subscription books, or books published at net prices, with two asterisks; educational books published at "wholesale" prices, with a dagger.

Alcott, Louisa M. Moods: a novel. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1882. 359 p. S. cl., $1.50.

When "Moods" was first published it was so altered, to suit the taste and convenience of the publisher, that the original purpose of the story was lost sight of, and marriage appeared to be the theme instead of an attempt to show the mistakes of a moody nature, guided by impulse, not principle. In this new edition many changes have been made, several chapters have been omitted, several of the original ones restored, and the ending entirely altered, Sylvia, the heroine, having a less harrowing if less romantic fate, than the former editions.

Alger, Horatio, jr. Bound to rise; Brave and bold; Herbert Carter's legacy; Jack's ward; Sink or swim; Luck and pluck; Risen from the ranks; Shifting for himself; Strive and succeed; Strong and steady; Try and trust; Wait and hope. New issues. Phil., Porter & Coates, 1882. 12 v., ea. 16° cl., $1.50.

Alger, Horatio, jr. Charlie Codman's cruise; Frank's campaign; Julius; Paul Prescott's charge; Paul, the peddler; Phil, the fiddler; Sam's chance; Slow and sure; Tattered Tom; Telegraph boy; Young adventurer; Young explorers; Young miner; Young outlaw. New issues. Phil., Porter & Coates, 1882. 14 v., ea. il. 16° cl., $1.25.

Armsby, H. S., and Jenkins, E. H. Farmer's annual hand-book for 1882. N. Y., Appleton, 1882. 16° cl., tucks, 50 c.

Baker, B. The actual lateral pressure of earth work. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand, 1882. il. 18°. (Van Nostrand's science ser., no. 56.) bds., 50 c.

Baring-Gould, S. Germany, present and past. N. Y., H. Holt & Co., 1882. 4+492 p. O. cl., $3.50.

Consists of 14 chapters, each devoted to a special subject: The upper nobility; The lower nobility; The laws of succession; Peasant proprietors; Marriage; Women; Education; The army; The stage; The Kulturkampf; Protestantism; The labor question; Social democracy; Culture. The appendix gives lists of books on each subject to assist the reader who desires further information. Index.

Bible, New Testament; tr. out of the original Greek: Columbian Oxford double Testament, contains the old and new versions; the marginal readings of the old versions; notes of the new version; notes of the American Committee; chronology of the New Testament; index to subjects, all on the page with the Testaments; history of the committee of revision; history of the three great authorities, by Daniel Curry, D.D. N. Y., Bible Revision Assoc., 1882. 18+660 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Bible, New Testament; tr. out of the Greek: The triple comparison; [contains] King James version, Anglican revised version of 1881, and American revised version, 1881. The gospel of Mark, arranged for use in schools and classes. N. Y., Fords, Howard & Hulbert, 1882. 100 p. S. pap., 15 c.

In addition to these three versions thus presented side by side, the little pamphlet contains a full list of the Sunday-school lessons for the entire year, with the golden text and page-reference, and a chronological index of events in the life of Christ, with special page-references to those mentioned by the evangelist Mark.

Bible, New Testament in the original Greek text, revised by Brooke Foss Westcott, D.D., and Fenton J. Anthony Hort, D.D. Amer. ed., with intro. by Philip Schaff, D.D. New ed. N. Y., Harper, 1882. 90+580 p. D. cl., $2.

Bingham, D. A. The marriages of the Bonapartes. N. Y., Harper, 1882. 98 p. Q. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., no. 226.) pap., 20 c.

Account of Napoleon's marriages to Josephine and Marie Louise; the marriages of his brothers and sisters, the Beauharnais, etc. By the author of "The siege of Paris."

Blades, W. Biography and typography of William Caxton, England's first printer. 2d ed. N. Y., Scribner & Welford, 1882. 12+387 p. il. D. cl., $2.

A revised reprint of the condensed octavo edition of the original quarto work in 2 v., issued in 1861-63; contains all the matter and all the plates of the octavo issue, with the addition of remarks upon the meaning and origin of Caxton's device, and upon his system of punctuation.

Browne, Francis F., ed. Golden poems, by British and American authors. Chic., Jansen, McClurg & Co., 1882. 464 p. O. cl., $2.50.

Grouped under subject headings: "By the fireside;" "Nature's voices;" "Dreams and fancies;" "Friendship and sympathy;" "Love;" "Liberty and patriotism;" "Battle echoes;" "Pathos and sorrow;" "The better life;" "Scattered leaves." It will be found on examination that the collection embraces a very large number of pieces not heretofore contained in any other miscellaneous anthology. Among these may be named the following: The revenge—a ballad of the fleet, The Northern cobbler, The defence of Lucknow, by Alfred Tennyson; The cradle, Angelus song, Before Sedan, Angiola in heaven, by Austin Dobson; My heart and I, by Mrs. Browning; Battle of Lexington, Power of prayer, by Sidney Lanier; The voice of the poor, by Lady Wilde; Serenade and Requiescat, by Oscar Wilde; Song of Krishna, Lord Raglan, by Edwin Arnold. It also contains many entirely new selections from the longer poems of standard authors, and corrects the imperfect versions in which many favorite poems have appeared. Take the volume altogether, it is an extremely handsome and interesting one, finely printed and richly bound, with full gilt edges.

Browne, Sir T. Religio medici, letter to a friend, etc., and Christian morals; ed. by W. A. Greenhill. N. Y., Macmillan, 1881. 54+392 p. 16°. (Golden treasury ser.) cl., $1.25.

Browning, Oscar. An introduction to the history of educational theories. N. Y., Harper, 1882. 8+199 p. S. (The education lib., ed. by Philip Magnus.) cl., 75 c.

"Mr. Oscar Browning opens the series with a history of educational theories, which is not unworthy of its author's reputation. He deals first with the theories of Greek philosophers, and shows us how, with all the imperfections of the ancient scheme of education, it was yet an endeavor to realize the true end of teaching and discipline—the production of good citizens."—Westminster Review (London).

Burt, W. H., M.D. Physiological materia medica, containing all that is known of the physiological action of our [homoeopathic] remedies, their characteristic indications and their pharmacology. Chic., Gross & Delbridge, 1881. 980 p. 8° cl., $7; shp., $8.

Burton, J. Hill. The book-hunter. [Memorial ed.] Phil., Rob. A. Tripple, 1881. 16+396 p. D. cl., net, $3.

A fac-simile reprint of the original edition (page for page) with the following important additions: a memoir by E. J. G. Mackey, and an index of 12 p. by Prof. W. Fawcett; the edition is limited, and is printed on fine laid paper from new type. The author died in Aug., 1881.

Butterworth, Hezekiah, comp. Sunday-school concert book. Bost., H. A. Young & Co., 1882. 16° cl., 50 c.

Cadol, Edouard. A child of Israel: a novel: from the French by Laura E. Kendall. Phil., T. B. Peterson & Bros., [1882]. 17-314 p. sq. S. cl., $1; pap., 75 c.

The plot turns on the love of Louise Vaconsin de Bovilliers for Pierre Wavre, a gifted young Jewish artist, who comes to her father's château on business, and undertakes to paint her portrait. Louise is ignorant of the artist's religion, and, on becoming aware of it, is so shocked that she treats the young man with rudeness. She falls ill, and the artist, who has become infatuated with her almost without knowing it, quits the château. Louise is then induced by her family to wed the Count d'Aitignies, a man of the world, who cares only for her fortune. Of course, the married life of the ill-assorted pair is an unhappy one, but by what means it is terminated, and how the lovers are at last united, must be learned from the novel.

Child, L. Maria. Isaac T. Hopper: a true life. New ed. N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., [1882]. 18+493 p. por. D. cl., $1.

Originally published 1852. The subject of this memoir was b. in New Jersey, 1771, and d. 1852; he belonged to the Society of Friends, was a well-known reformer and philanthropist, a friend of the unfortunate and erring, and an opponent of slavery.

The mind of Mencius; or, political economy founded upon moral philosophy: a systematic digest of the doctrines of the Chinese philosopher Mencius, B.C. 325; the orig. text classified and transl., with notes and explanations, by the Rev. E. Faber; from the German, with notes and emendations by the Rev. Arthur B. Hutchinson. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1882. 16+293 p. 8^o. (Philosophical lib., no. 26.) cl., $3.50.

Fairbairn, Rev. A. M. Studies in the life of Christ. N. Y., Appleton, 1882. 8+359 p. D. cl., $1.75.

These studies were originally prepared as a series of Sunday evening discourses while the author was a minister in Aberdeen. The author says: "They are not exhaustive and critical discussions on the gospel history, but, at most, attempts at orientation—at reaching points of view from which the life of Christ may be understood and construed." They are 18 in number, and treat of all the great events in the life of Christ.

Hawthorne, Nathaniel. An analytical index to the works of Nathaniel Hawthorne, with a sketch of his life. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1882. 294 p. T. cl., $1.25; D. uniform with the Library ed., $2.

An admirable index, which every reader of Hawthorne will be delighted to have; it enables one to refer immediately to any character, scene, incident, or striking passage in his writings; also gives much special information of an interesting kind relative to the originals of some of his principal characters.

Her solemn promise, by the author of "The silent shadow;" [also] Her face. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie & Co., 1882. 31 p. Q. (People's lib., no. 174.) pap., 20 c.

Hoppin, Ja. M. Homiletics. [New ed.] N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., [1882]. 38+809 p. O. cl., $3.50.

The original title of this book was "The office and work of the Christian ministry;" in the present edition the author has thought best, for many reasons, to treat the whole subject in two separate volumes, each of them complete in itself. "Homiletics"—the 1st volume, will be followed by another upon "Pastoral theology," thus comprehending the two principal themes of practical theology. This work since first issued, has run through three editions, and has been adopted as a text-book in several theological schools; in its present form it is greatly enlarged, in some parts wholly rewritten, while much of it is entirely new.

Noble, Annette Lucille. Eunice Lathrop, spinster. N. Y., G. P. Putnam's Sons, 1882. 6+32 p. sq. S. (Knickerbocker novels.) cl., $1; pap., 60 c.

"Eunice Lathrop, spinster," an interesting specimen of a cultivated New England woman of middle age, has not very much to do with the plot of this novel, though she is a very sympathetic and delightful character; the chief events are evolved by four lovers—two of the male and two of the female sex—and a beautiful adventuress, who shoots herself accidentally or purposely—it is not decided which—in the presence of one of the chief male characters, who is consequently arrested and tried for murder; this is the only really sensational event—the preceding portions of the book describe the ordinary people and life in a small New England town.

Stallo, J. B. Concepts and theories of modern physics. N. Y., Appleton, 1882. 313 p. D. (International science ser., no. 38.) cl., $1.75.
Judge Stallo's work is an inquiry into the validity of those mechanical conceptions of the universe which are now held as fundamental in physical science. He takes up the leading modern doctrines which are based upon this mechanical conception, such as the atomic constitution of matter, the kinetic theory of gases, the conservation of energy, the nebular hypothesis, and other views, to find how much stands upon solid empirical ground, and how much rests upon metaphysical speculation.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

MISS LOUISA M. ALCOTT is said to be writing a novel with the suggestive title of "The Superfluous Woman."

MISS ELIZABETH STUART PHELPS will have in the March number of Harper's Magazine, a paper on "The Last Works of George Eliot."

"EARLY English Economic History" is the title of an important work on which Mr. Frederick Seeböhm has long been engaged. The first volume will probably appear in the spring.

JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS, the clever chronicler of Uncle Remus's sayings, has sketched out a serial story "The Romance of Rockville." He is also writing a story of old slave life in the South.

CANON W. N. MOLESWORTH, whose valuable "History of England from the Year 1830" has met with much appreciation, has now in the press a "History of the Anglican Church from 1660 to 1860."

MRS. ROSE HAWTHORNE LATHROP, the daughter of Nathaniel Hawthorne, is writing for the first number of Our Continent a sketch of her old home at Concord, with some personal recollections of her father.

CHARLES READE, after several years of literary inactivity, again resumes his calling, and will write a series of brief sketches for Harper's Weekly. The first subject taken by Mr. Reade is a sketch of Sir Robert Lush, which will appear under the title "Perseverance."

GEORGE H. BOKER is about to publish, through J. B. Lippincott & Co., a volume of poetry with the strange title of "The Book of the Dead." The poems are said to be all short and to relate to "one who hath departed." Mr. Boker's friends say that this volume contains the finest and strongest work of his literary life.

J. BRANDER MATTHEWS is to edit the dramatic essays of Charles Lamb for the Parchment Library of Kegan Paul, Trench & Co. and the English Classics of D. Appleton & Co. He will contribute a preface on Lamb's work as a dramatist and as a critic of the drama. The volume, which will appear in the spring, will be embellished, probably, by an etching of Hogarth's portrait of Peg Woffington, now in the Garrick Club, London.

The Publishers' Weekly.

JANUARY 28, 1882.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry.

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for Notes and Queries," gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

THE BOOKS OF 1881.

THE year just closed was one of the most productive and prosperous in the history of the book trade. From its very opening it was marked by an activity to meet which taxed all the resources of this office. Especially was this so in the matter of recording and noticing new books, which poured in upon us from January to December at an unprecedented rate, the climax being reached in the last three months of the year, when the total number of books recorded in our weekly lists amounted to 798 distinct works, 664 of these being actually books received and noticed, more than one third of the whole number of books received during the year. The whole number of titles entered (inclusive of new editions) in our "Weekly Record" during 1881, amounted to 2991. Of these, 1758 were taken directly from the books themselves, and 1233 obtained either from the publishers, after a never-wearying persistence in well-doing in the matter of correspondence and solicitation, or patiently dug up from innumerable unofficial sources. The 1758 books actually received appeared as usual in our weekly lists in brevier type, followed in almost all cases by a brief descriptive notice or summary of contents—an advantage to the publisher, and a convenience to the bookseller and the bookbuyer, which, it seems incredible, are still beyond the comprehension of a not inconsiderable number of publishers.

It will be seen, in comparing our figures with those of last year, that we recorded 915 more books than in 1880—a fact we should like to establish, as our friend, The Independent, inadvertently credits the book statistics for 1881, of the London Publishers' Circular, to the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY. Now, while the former journal recorded 5406 new books and new editions—300 books less than the year previous—we show an increase of three times three hundred, averaging 52 books a week, to the 34 a week of last year. Our longest "Weekly Record" was that of Dec. 3, containing 108 titles, all in brevier; our shortest list was that of Aug. 13, showing 25 titles, of which 24 were in brevier, 1 in nonpareil.

In tabulating our entries, and placing them as far as possible in classes, as we do below, we were especially impressed with the great number of books by American writers that have been published this year in excess of all previous years. No one, after carefully analyzing the principal works of the various departments—notably, Fiction, Poetry, History, Travel, and Biography—can repeat the reproach that we have no literature. Not only are some of the most successful books of the year by American authors, but they are American in subject, and have a strong national interest.

The following tables show the different figures for 1880 and 1881. The comparison is not without interest:

"Fiction" again, as in 1880, leads the list. That this one class of books should appear to so greatly exceed all the others is to be chiefly accounted for by the fact that we have this year included the more popular of the various issues of the cheap libraries, which almost exclusively contain reprints. Still, the growing productiveness in this field, even at home, is a remarkable fact. We enumerate the more prominent, placing those by American writers first:

"Nameless Nobleman," Miss Tincker's "By the Tiber," Cable's "Madame Delphine," "Cape Cod Folks," Howells' "Dr. Breen's Practice" and "A Fearful Responsibility," "The Georgians," James' "Portrait of a Lady," "Barby Rue," Mrs. Paddock's "Fate of Madame La Tour," "Damen's Ghost," "Homoselle," "Patty's Perversities," Fawcett's "A Gentleman of Leisure," Baker's "A Blessed Saint Certainly," "Manuela Parêdes," Mrs. Burnett's "A Fair Barbarian," Miss Green's "Sword of Damocles," "Mr. Perkins' Daughter," by the Marchioness of Lanza, "The Tsar's Window," "Craque-o'-Doom," by M. H. Catherwood, Miss Phelps' "Friends," Mrs. Clements' "Eleanor Maitland," Miss Johnson's "Neptune Vase," Miss Howard's "Aunt Serena," "My Wife and My Wife's Sister," Roe's "Without a Home," Miss Warner's "Letter of Credit," and James Freeman Clarke's "Legend of Thomas Didymus"—properly a life of Christ, though in the form of fiction.

Among the most important by English and foreign writers were:

Miss Fothergill's "Kith and Kin," Hardy's "Laodicean," Black's "Sunrise" and "Beautiful Wretch," "Blackmore's "Christowell," Norris' "Matrimony," Mallock's "Romance of the Nineteenth Century," Jean Ingelow's "Don John," "Mrs. Geoffrey" and "Faith and Unfaith," by the author of "Phyllis," Russell's "An Ocean Free Lance," Trollope's "Ayala's Angel," Miss Havers' "Matter-of-Fact Girl," Rita's "Fragoletta," Mrs. Forrester's "My Lord and My Lady," Macdonald's "Warlock of Glenwarlock," Miss Poynter's "Among the Hills," Besant's "Chaplain of the Fleet," "Rabbi Jeshua" (also a novel having Christ as its central figure), Bikélas' "Loukis Laras," "Sabine's Falsehood," "The Exiles," "A Nihilist Princess," Ebers' "Emperor," Mme. Greville's "Xenie's Inheritance," Feuillet's "Bellah," Rochefort's "Mademoiselle Bismarck," "Severa" Björnson's "Arne," "A Happy Boy," and "Synnöve Solbakken," "Sabine's Falsehood," by the Princess Altiéri, and Verne's "Steam House."

Although the religious publications fall far short in numbers when compared with the novels, they make up for this deficiency in quality, embracing, as they do, the names of some of the first theologians of England and America. The most important issue of this class was certainly "The Revised Version of the New Testament," published early in the year; other noticeable works were: Mulford's "Republic of God," Stanley's "Christian Institutions," Dr. Clarke's "Events and Epochs in Religious History," Stoughton's "History of Religion in England," Geikie's "Hours with the Bible," Dr. Taylor's "Paul, the Missionary," Robertson Smith's "Old Testament in the Jewish Church," Stebbins' "Mosaic Authorship of the Pentateuch," Howson's "Evidential Value of the Acts of the Apostles," Godet's "Defence of the Christian Faith," Newman Smith's "Orthodox Theology of To-day," Farrar's "Mercy and Judgment," Brunton's "Bible and Science," Diman's "Theistic Argument," Bascom's "Natural Theology," Prof. Phelps' "Theory of Preaching," Lundy's "Monumental Christianity," Washburn's "Social Law of God," Dr. Gordon's "Grace and Glory," Dr. G. Lorimer's "Isms, Old and New," Dr. Phillips Brooks' "Candle of the Lord," Rev. Stopford A. Brooke's "Faith and Freedom," Dr. Dale's "Evangelical Revival," Canon Liddon's "Sermons to the People," Rev. Bersier's "St. Paul's Vision," volume 4 of Punchard's "History of Congregationalism," Doane's "Mosaics," Barth's "Religions of India," Grote's "The New Infidelity," Lillie's "Buddha and Buddhism," Legge's "Religions of China," George Smith's "Chaldean Account of Genesis," edited by Prof. A. H. Sayce, and "Christ and Modern Thought," the Boston Lectures for 1880-81, "Ecce Spiritus."

Again the American influence may be traced in the large class of memoirs and biographies, which includes initial volumes of three different series, begun during the past year, and devoted to American men of letters, American historical characters, and American actors; of this class are: Warner's "Irving," Scudder's "Noah Webster," Alden's "Columbus," Warner's "Captain John Smith," Winter's "Jeffersons" and "John Brougham," Mrs. Gustafson's "Genevieve Ward," Barrett's "Edwin Forrest"—add to these also from American pens: Benson's "Gaspara Stampa," Field's "Biographical Notes," Cooke's "Emerson," Bundy's "Garfield," Gottschalk's "Notes of a Pianist," vol. 3 of Badeau's "Military History of U. S. Grant," Stevens' "De Staël," Parton's "Voltaire." Among other important works in this field are: Besant's "Sir Richard Whittington," Hensel's "Mendelssohn Family," "Smith's "John Bright," Morley's "Richard Cobden," volume 3 of "Dickens' Letters," "Memoirs of Count Miot de Melito," Hall's "David Cox," Symington's "Wordsworth," "Mme. de Rémusat's Letters," Mahaffy's "Descartes," Miss Thackeray's "Mme. de Sévigné," Conway's "Carlyle," "Talleyrand's Correspondence," Stigand's "Heine," Carlyle's "Reminiscences," Metternich's "Memoirs," Myer's "Wordsworth," Christie's "Etienne Dolet," Fagan's "Sir Anthony Panizzi," Holden's "Sir William Herschel," Jennings' "Anecdotal History of the British Parliament," Trollope's "Cicero," Palmer's "Caliph Haroun Alraschid," Scherr's "Schiller," Sensier's "Millet," and Mme. de Witt's "Guizot in Private Life."

In "History," American subjects by American writers will be seen to predominate over all others. One of the most important contributions is the series known as the "Campaigns of the Civil War;" of this has been published: Nicolay's "Outbreak of Rebellion," Force's "From Fort Henry to Corinth," Webb's "Peninsula," Ropes' "The Army under Pope," and Palfrey's "Antietam and Fredericksburg." Of the other works we call attention to, the titles speak for themselves: Butterfield's "Discovery of the Northwest," vol 3 of Holst's "Constitutional and Political History of the U. S.," Dodge's "Campaign of Chancellorville," Hillebrand's "France and the French," Schouler's "United States under the Constitution," Davis' "Confederate Government," Taine's "French Revolution," Johnson's "Yorktown Campaign," Draper's "Kings Mountain and its Heroes," Coppée's "Conquest of Spain," Fyffe's "Modern Europe," Longman's "Frederick the Great," Timayenis' "History of Greece," Atwater's "History of New Haven," Dewhurst's "St. Augustine, Florida," Smith's "Rome and Carthage," Lodge's "English Colonies in America," Merrill's "History of Amesbury, Mass.," vol. 2 of Winsor's "Memorial History of Boston," Blanchard's "Discovery and Conquest of the Northwest," Freeman's "Historical Geography of Europe," Howard's "Nez Perce Joseph," Miss Bailey's "Sketches of Andover, Maine," Clement's "Egypt," Smith's "History of Newtown, Mass.," Fitzgerald's "George the Fourth," and Lossing's "Popular Cyclopædia of U. S." Mrs. Lamb's "History of New York" was also finished last year.

Among the leading works in travel and description, an unusually rich field this year, are: Gilder's "Schwatka's Search," Alberti's "New Guinea," Drake's "Heart of the White Mountains," Du Chaillu's "Land of the Midnight Sun," Freeman's "Subject and Neighbor Lands of Venice," Lady Hardy's "Through Cities and Prairie Lands," Blackburn's "Breton Folk," Lady Florence Dixie's "Across Patagonia," Mrs. Vanderbilt's "Social History of Flatbush," Dwight's "Turkish Life in War Time," Lawrence Oliphant's "Land of Gilead," Holub's "Seven Years in South Africa," Macquoid's "In the Ardennes," Pinto's "How I Crossed Africa," Thomson's "To the Central African Lakes and Back," Hatton's "To-day in America," Ellis' "On a Raft and through the Desert," Amicis' "Spain," Merrill's "East of the Jordan," Pierson's "In the Brush," Rae's "Newfoundland," Tyler's "Scandinavian Summer," Vincent's "Norsk, Lapp, and Finn."

The most important works on literature, including essays and criticism, are: Harrison's "Myths of the Odyssey," Shairp's "Aspects of Poetry," Shepherd's "Literary Life," Warner's

"American Newspaper," Symonds' "Renaissance in Italy," Lang's "The Library," 5th v. of Max Müller's "Chips from a German Work-shop," Jefferies' "Wood Magic," Cooke's "Scientific Culture," Dyer's "Domestic Folk-lore," Conway's "Wandering Jew," Bunce's "Bachelor Bluff," Cox's "Comparative Mythology," "Garfield's Words," Long's "Eastern Proverbs," Jennings' "Half-hours with Greek and Latin Authors," Milner's "Country Pleasures," Dowden's "Shakespeare," Fausboll's "Buddhist Birth Stories," Ruskin's "Arrows of the Chace," Sikes' "British Goblins," Ward's "English Poets" [3d and 4th vols.], Woolson's "Browsing Among Books," Hall's "Aspects of German Culture," Burroughs' "Pepacton," Albee's "Literary Art," Brédif's "Political Eloquence in Greece," Mathews' "Literary Style," Richard Grant White's "England Without and Within," Miss Jewett's "Country By-Ways," and Thoreau's "Early Spring;" "The American Catalogue," Bartlett's "Shakespeare Phrase-Book," and Hoyt and Ward's "Cyclopædia of Poetical Quotations," should also be mentioned here.

Among the notable volumes of poetry, the majority of which are by American authors, are: Hutchinson's "Songs and Lyrics," Owen Innsly's "Love Poems and Sonnets," Rossetti's "Ballads and Sonnets," Mrs. Spofford's "Poems," Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," Williams' "Poets and Poetry of Ireland," Carleton's "Farm Festivals," Heine's "Poems" (translated by Miss Emma Lazarus), Oscar Wilde's "Poems," Miss Rossetti's "A Pageant," Trowbridge's "A Home Idyl," Whittier's "The King's Missive," Swinburne's "Mary Stuart" and "Studies in Song," Mrs. Craik's "Thirty Years," Piatt's "Idyls and Lyrics," O'Reilly's "Statues in the Block."

We would call attention to the following works as the most prominent ones on political and social science: Jackson's "A Century of Dishonor," Cossa's "Political Science," Seward's "Chinese Immigration," Becker's "Disturbed Ireland," George's "Irish Land Questions," Mongredien's "Free Trade Movement in England," White's "American View of the Copyright Question," Barnard's "Coöperation as a Business," Centz's "Republic of Republics," Stanton and Anthony's "History of Woman's Suffrage," Statham's "Blacks, Boers, and British," Spencer's "Sociology," Houghton's "Political Parties and the Federal Government," "Ploughed Under," Reemelin's "American Politics," Robinson's "Massachusetts in the Woman Suffrage Movement," Phear's "International Trade," Walker's "Money, Trade, and Banking," Lalor's "Cyclopædia of Political Science," and the first volume of Macleod's "Elements of Economics."

In natural sciences the chief works are: Gordon's "Electricity and Magnetism," Proctor's "Poetry of Astronomy," Wallace's "Island Life," Wurtz's "Atomic Theory," Zollner's "Transcendental Physics," Brodie's "Ideal Chemistry," Buckley's "Life and Her Children," Darwin's "Action of Worms" and "Movement in Plants," Geiger's "Development of the Human Race," Magnin's "The Bacteria," Geikie's "Prehistoric Europe," Gentry's "Nests and Eggs of Birds of U. S.," Gunning's "Life History of Our Planet," Le Conte's "Sight," Martin's "The Human Body," Semper's "Animal Life," Mivart's "The Cat," Reclus' "History of a Mountain," Rosenthal's "Physiology of Muscles and Nerves," Shaler and Davis' "Glaciers," Scudder's "Butterflies," Stearns' "New England Bird-Life," Hervey's "American Sea Mosses," Young's "The Sun," McCook's "Honey and Occident Ants," Judd's "Volcanoes."

Under mental and moral philosophy we find: Biddle's "Elements of Knowledge," Mead's "Philosophy of Carlyle," Watson's "Kant and His English Critics," Sully's "Illusions," Hopkins' "Law of Love," the third volume of Lange's "Materialism," Kingsley's "Views on Vexed Questions," Hickok's "Empirical Psychology," Legge's "Chinese Classics," Mayor's "Ancient Philosophy," Sewall's "New Ethics," Stirling's "Kant."

For information regarding illustrated works and fine art publications, and also works for the young, we must refer to the Christmas Number. Nor is it necessary to point out the principal text-books and educational works, as that ground will be thoroughly covered in the WEEKLY next month. As we said last year, a coup d'œil such as the above, can only give an imperfect view of general literature. A full survey of every class of literature, inclusive of the professional lines, can be obtained by consulting the monthly classified summaries. But the relative activity of the various publishers can nowhere be more approximately gauged than in the advertising department of this issue, which should be carefully studied by every interested reader.

THE fact that the work on the Index to the Annual Summaries cannot be finished until the last advertising copy is received, and that the last copy is generally received after the very date of the number, makes it expedient to dispatch this already belated issue, and to mail the index next week. The pressure brought on our printers necessarily postpones the issue of the Monthly Reference List until February 11.

BOOK PRODUCTION IN ENGLAND.

From the Academy (London).

AN entertaining article might be written upon the Analytical Table of books issued during the past twelve months, which Messrs. Sampson Low have compiled from their fortnightly Publishers' Circular. But we must confine ourselves to a few statistical comments. The new books published in 1881 number 4110, the new editions 1296; total, 5406, as compared with 5708 in 1880. The decrease is considerable, and is more noticeable as following upon a decrease in 1879, when the total was 5834. On the two years the aggregate decrease amounts to 428, or 7.35 per cent. It is interesting to observe that nearly one sixth of all the books are published in December; next in order come April, November, October, February; January and September are last. As regard subjects, theology is well at the top with 945; educational and novels are almost exactly equal (682 and 674); then follow juvenile, arts, etc., history with biography, and serials. As compared with the previous year, the decrease is proportionately much larger in new editions than in new books. Juveniles have fallen very heavily; so have miscellaneous, including pamphlets; and political economy to a less extent. The great advance is in novels, in history, and in belles lettres. Just one half of the law-books that appear are new editions, and one third of the medical works. The same proportion of one third holds good also for novels; while in belles lettres the proportion rises to two fifths. Only 111 volumes of poetry were produced during the year, as against 446 novels. It must be remembered that these classes are somewhat roughly formed.

JAMES T. FIELDS.

From the Atlantic Monthly.

IF Dr. Johnson could have lived long enough to become a frequenter of the Old Corner Book-store some twenty years ago, he would certainly have congratulated himself upon the fact that the publisher had been invented. To be an "ideal" publisher requires a rare combination of qualities; but in no publisher of our times, perhaps, has such a combination been more admirably realized than in the late Mr. James T. Fields. His success in his own department of activity was certainly pre-eminent; and this was no doubt largely owing to the fact that he was much more than a publisher. The highest success in any profession whatever is usually achieved by men who are in some sense larger than their profession. The trade should not encompass the man, but the man should encompass the trade, and reach out beyond it; and this largeness was conspicuously illustrated in the whole career of Mr. Fields. From his childhood until the last day of his life on earth, he was a sincere and devoted student of literature. Though not strictly a man of letters, in the professional sense, he possessed, in a large measure, that sound taste and clear discrimination in literary matters, which is the first and most indispensable qualification in a critic. He could recognize good work as soon as it was brought before him. This capacity was based, in his case, upon something wider even than a keen literary sense. He possessed the faculty of distinguishing, almost intuitively, between sound and flimsy, between neat and slovenly, work of any sort—a faculty as valuable as the more comprehensive gift (of which, indeed, it forms a large part) of understanding human nature in general. In the matter of scientific work, leading into departments of investigation of which he probably knew little or nothing, Mr. Fields was pretty sure to know whether he was dealing with a person of true merit or not. His intuitions on such a point were generally correct, just as in his youth he used to surprise his fellow-clerks by divining beforehand what kind of a book was likely to be wanted by any chance customer who entered the store. Besides this appreciation of intrinsically good work, he had an equally quick sense of the demands of the general public. No publisher can always be sure, with respect to any literary enterprise, whether it is going to be profitable or not, from a pecuniary point of view; but in such matters Mr. Fields exhibited more than ordinary shrewdness, while at the same time it must be said to his credit, and to that of the house to which he belonged, that he set a high value upon that particular kind of advantage which accrues to a publisher from dealing only in first-rate wares. The imprint of "Ticknor & Fields" upon the title-page of a book was almost a sure guarantee of its excellence. It was generally understood that this was a firm which would publish nothing that was not believed to possess enduring merit.

MISUSE OF ADVANCE SHEETS.

From the Examiner and Chronicle.

SOME of the publishing houses have a way of sending out a few "advance sheets" of forthcoming works, in order to secure early notice from the daily and weekly papers. The understanding in all such cases is, we believe, that the notice shall not appear until the book is actually published; but the desire to be "enterprising" leads a journal now and then to ignore this understanding, and publish a notice some time before the book is put on the market. This puts other journals at a disadvantage, and skims the cream from an interesting volume before most critics have had a taste. On the whole, would it not be better to abandon this practice altogether, except when a newspaper asks for the advance sheets of a work, giving at the same time a distinct pledge to withhold its notice until the work is published? The publisher desires fair treatment by the press, and should therefore treat the press fairly. The present arrangement savors too much of favoritism, and is open to too many abuses to find general favor among newspaper workers.

W. D. MYERS, with the N. Y. School Journal, 21 Park Place, N. Y., has succeeded Joseph F. Vogelius as secretary of the Booksellers' and Stationers' Provident Association. Mr. Vogelius, who contemplated resigning over a year ago, but deferred it until an eligible candidate could be found, still remains a member of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Myers will devote considerable of his time to canvassing personally for new members, in which endeavor we hope he will be heartily seconded by all the members of the association.

N. Y. FREE CIRCULATING LIBRARY.

"THE fact that there is no free circulating library in New York at all adequate to the needs of our great population," says the Christian Union, "is one of those evidences of a lack of intelligent public spirit which thoughtful New Yorkers have long regretted. It is, therefore, very encouraging to find that this matter is beginning to excite the attention of persons whose influence and position, if their sympathies are engaged, are likely to provide for this want in a suitable way. A meeting was held last week in the hall of the Union League Club, over which Mayor Grace presided, and at which Dr. Hall, Mr. Choate, Dr. Potter, and Mr. Curtis made addresses, the object of which was to establish a public free library. Resolutions were adopted fixing the sum needed to erect a library building and secure necessary books at $200,000, and a committee was appointed who will endeavor to raise that sum within the current year. There ought to be no difficulty in raising double the amount for such a purpose. The New York Free Circulating Library, which has now entered upon the third year of its existence, has been well conducted, and is doing, so far as its means permit, an admirable work, and may well serve as the nucleus of a larger institution. Among other ways of raising money, it is announced that Mr. E. A. Freeman, the eminent historian, will lecture in Chickering Hall for the benefit of the proposed library on February 4th, 8th, and 11th."

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

THE Civil Service Record is a monthly eight-page paper, published by the Boston and Cambridge Reform Associations, of Boston.

The Word, the Work, and the Woman is a title of a new periodical published by the Rev. Albert B. Simpson, of the Bible House. The first number is fully illustrated.

The American Canoeist is the title of a new monthly journal about to be published by Messrs. Arthur Brentano and H. T. Keyser. The editors have been fortunate in enlisting in their service the pens of Mr. W. L. Alden, of the Times, and Mr. John Habberton, of the Herald, canoeists of no mean fame.

THE American Bookseller enters upon the new year in an entirely different form. Discarding the shape in which it was known to the trade for the last eight years, it now dons the quarto, with a granite-colored cover. It has also slightly changed its title, which now reads: "The American Bookseller, published in the interests of Newsdealers, Booksellers and Stationers."

THE change which the publishers of Potter's American Monthly have made in the size of their magazine is generally commended. The reduced size of page corresponds now with that of the other popular magazines. But the decrease is more than compensated for by the addition of 24 pages, making 120 pages of solid matter. The cover is of a new and original design, very attractive, and marks a new era in the external appearance of the magazine.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

A NEW edition of Mountford's "Euthanasia; or, Happy Talks Toward the End of Life," will be issued soon by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

"THE Commerce and Industries of the Pacific Coast of North America," by John S. Hittel, to be published in San Francisco, is announced as in press.

MR. E. P. ROE's last novel, "Without a Home," says the N. Y. Mail and Express, "bells its title in that it has already found its way into 29,000 homes."

HENRY JAMES' new story, "The Portrait of a Lady," bids fair to be much the most popular of his novels. It has already reached the fifth thousand, and is still in excellent demand.

T. B. PETERSON & BROS. have in press "Monsieur le Ministre," said to be a pen and ink portrait of a prime minister of France, and which has passed through forty editions in Paris.

"SHANDON BELLS" is the title of William Black's new novel for Harper's Magazine, to be published some time this year. The scene is laid, as may be guessed from the title, in the south of Ireland.

WILLIAM R. JENKINS will publish on February 1st an American edition of Armatage's "Veterinarian's Pocket Remembrancer," a little English book of considerable value to Veterinary practitioners.

HOUGHTON, MIFELIN & Co. have issued a Portrait Catalogue of their publications in crown octavo size, attractive typography, and containing portraits of many of the distinguished authors whose works they publish.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have received the first volume of the édition de luxe of Fielding's works, of which only a limited edition is published. The 250 copies allotted to the United States, will soon be sold, and those desiring to secure copies should send in their orders without delay.

E. J. HALE & SON (who have removed to 55 Chambers St.) have published a review of "The President's Relations with Senator Mahone and Repudiation; an Attempt to Subvert the Supreme Court of the United States," by W. L. Royall, formerly of Virginia, now of the bar of this city.

H. C. BAIRD & Co. will have ready in a few weeks Emory Edwards' "The Practical Steam Engine Guide," in the design, construction, and management of American stationary, portable, pumping, and steam fire engines, boilers, injectors, etc., for the use of engineers, firemen, and steam users, illustrated by about one hundred engravings.

PORTER & COATES have in press a new work by the popular author, Harry Castlemon, "George at the Fort," which will be the third volume of the Roughing It series. The first two volumes of this famous set have had a very large sale. They also announce the "Memories of Old Friends—Extracts from the Journals and Letters of Caroline Fox, of Penjerrick," edited by Horace N. Pym.

GROSS & DELBRIDGE, Chicago, have issued "Physiological Materia Medica, containing all that is known of the physiological action of our [Homœopathic] remedies, their characteristic indications, and their pharmacology," by Dr. W. H. Burt. They have in press "A Complete Minor Surgery: the Practitioner's vade mecum, including a Treatise on Venereal Diseases," by Dr. E. C. Franklin, of the Michigan University.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD announce a work of special interest, entitled simply "David Livingstone." Though the story of the great African missionary and explorer has been well told by Dr. Blakie in his "Personal Life of David Livingstone," yet there seems to be a call for a smaller book, written in a style adapted to ordinary readers and the young. Miss Louise Seymour Houghton is the author. It will make a 16mo of over 300 pages, and will be profusely illustrated.

GINN, HEATH & Co. have just published a "Sight Test" for schools. The publishers claim that the chart (11½ × 30 in.) is a popularization "of one of the best sight tests hitherto exclusively used by oculists for their examinations." An easily-understood explanation of the method of its use is appended, and by it the teacher is enabled to at once detect the cases where sight is below the normal standard; and, by singling out such instances, to determine whether the failure is progressive.

JOHN E. POTTER & Co. announce as ready shortly, "Harrison's French Syntax." This work has required a great deal of care in its preparation to make it as complete and accurate a work as the one which forms its basis, and is generally acknowledged as leading on this subject—that of Edward Mötzner. They will also issue at once "A Manual of the German Language," by Augustin Knopfloch, and an "Introduction to the Study of English Literature and Literary Criticism," by Prof. James Baldwin.

MACMILLAN & Co. have just issued three volumes in their English Citizen series: "The Poor Law," by T. W. Fowle; "The Electorate and the Legislature," by Spencer Walpole; and "Central Government," by H. D. Traill. The volumes in comprehensible form contain a large amount of information of value to other than English citizens. They have also issued in their attractive Golden Treasury series Sir Thomas Browne's "Religio Medici," his letter to a friend, and his "Christian Morals," edited by M. A. Greenhill.

THOMAS WHITTAKER will publish in February "The Communicant," a manual of devotions for holy communion, edited by M. O. Purton, and arranged for the Church in the United States; "Only a Tramp; or, The Golden Links," a story by Grace Stebbins; "Ecclesia Anglicana," a history of the Church of Christ in England from the earliest to the present times, by the Rev. A. C. Jennings; a new edition of the "Short Sermons," by Dr. John N. Norton; "The Words on the Cross," a series of seven short sermons, by Rev. Charles M. Parkman; and "Questions that Trouble Beginners in Religion," by the Rev. G. W. Shinn.

COWPERTHWAIT & Co. are steadily adding to their list of school and college text-books. Their latest works are, Professor Appleton's "Quantitative Analysis," making the third volume of "Appleton's Chemical Text-Books;" "Royle's Manual of English Literature," being a companion volume of "Royle's Manual of American Literature," and "Monroe's Vocal Gymnastic Charts," which contain practical lessons, fully illustrated and with concise directions to teachers, upon physical training, vocal culture, articulation, sounds of the English language, and visible speech.

S. E. CASSINO, Boston, has just ready a student's guide in "Quantitative Analysis," by Prof. H. Carrington Bolton, of Trinity College; also, the "International Scientists' Directory," an index to the names, special departments of science, etc., of amateur and professional naturalists, chemists, etc., in America, Europe, Asia, Africa, and Oceanica. February 1, he will issue the first volume of "A Synopsis of the North American Lichens," comprising the Parmeliacei, Cladoniei, and Cœnogoniei, by Prof. Edward Tuckerman, of Amherst. On February 22 he will issue in two volumes the "History of Ancient Egypt," by George Rawlinson.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have recently issued two novels—one in the Transatlantic series, entitled "Esau Runswick," by Katherine S. Macquoid; the other in the Knickerbocker series, entitled "Eunice Lathrop Spinster," by Annette Lucile noble, author of "Uncle Jack's Executors." They have also published a most interesting little volume by Prof. F. Guthrie, entitled "The First Book of Knowledge," designed to furnish children with a great deal of useful information in regard to the common things of every-day life in a manner simple and comprehensive and just adapted to youthful minds.

WHITAKER'S ALMANAC for 1882, it gives us pleasure to note, receives from the Boston Advertiser—a good authority on such matters—the following appreciative mention: "Containing 448 pages in 12mo, it is the best general work of reference on all public matters of England and her dependencies, including the aristocracy, the government, the army and navy, the courts, the schools, the churches, banks and business, the City of London. It contains also a curious mass of useful statistics. All this is presented in a singularly condensed form, giving the principal names, the principal laws, the principal events of last year, and enough meteorology to satisfy the common skipper or yachtsman."

H. C. BAIRD & Co. make a very important announcement, "The Theory and Practice of the Preparation of Malt and the Fabrication of Beer." This is the only complete treatise on the brewing of German beers in the English language, and is written with especial reference to the Vienna process of brewing, elaborated from personal experience by Julius E. Thausing. It is translated from the German by William T. Brann, and thoroughly edited, according to the latest and most scientific practice, including all the new improvements in the brewing of lager beer introduced into the United States by A. Schwartz and Dr. A. H. Bauer. This valuable book will have 120 engravings, and will be an 8vo, costing $10. A new edition of "Ern's Mineralogy," will be ready about the same time.

THE first volume of Justin Winsor's proposed "History of America" will be the last of the eight to be issued, as its subject, "America before Columbus," needs to be treated in the light of investigations now in progress. The second volume, on the Spanish discoveries and conquests, will also be delayed; but the third, devoted to the English settlements, is in press. Each chapter is the work of a different hand. The Rev. E. E. Hale writes on Hawkins and Drake; Professor F. B. Dexter, of Yale, on the Pilgrim Church and Plymouth Colony; William Wirt Henry, of Virginia, on Sir Walter Raleigh; and J. Austin Stevens on the English in New York after 1664. The fourth volume of Mr. Winsor's undertaking will be published next autumn, and will treat of the French in North America.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co. have nearly ready a work that will be of striking interest to a large number of readers, "Memories of Old Friends," being extracts from the Journals and Letters of Caroline Fox, of Penjerrick, Cornwall, from 1835 to 1871. The "Memories" were so extremely interesting that the first London edition was speedily exhausted. Caroline Fox had a large circle of acquaintances, among whom were Carlyle and wife, Emerson, Coleridge, Bishop Stanley, Wordsworth, Dickens, Landor, Tennyson, and many others. The work is full of interesting conversations and anecdotes. They have also nearly ready "Studies in Mediæval History," by Professor Stillé, the ex-provost of the University of Pennsylvania, who has for years made this his special branch of study.

P. BLAKISTON, SON & Co. have now ready Wolfe on "Diseases and Injuries of the Eye," a course of systematic and clinical lectures to students and medical practitioners. It contains 10 colored plates and 157 wood engravings. Also the new edition of Allingham "On the Rectum," thoroughly revised and much enlarged. They have just received a new importation of Acton's important book on the "Reproductive Organs." They will soon have ready the new, sixth, edition of Holden's "Human Osteology," with 61 lithographic plates and 80 wood engravings. Early in February they will publish the second edition, revised and enlarged, of Gowers' "Manual and Atlas of Medical Ophthalmoscopy," containing 16 lithographic plates and 29 woodcuts, illustrating the changes in the eye in diseases of the brain, kidneys, etc. A third work, nearly ready, is the new edition of Balfour's "Clinical Lectures on Diseases of the Heart and Aorta," containing much new matter and a number of engravings.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in preparation "Garfield's Place in History," an essay by H. C. Pedder; "Pen Pictures of Authors," by William Shepard, author of "Authors and Authorship;" a new and cheaper edition of Crawford's "Portugal, Old and New," complete, with all the illustrations; "Morocco and its People," by Edmondo de Amicis, uniform with "Spain" and "Holland;" a new and much cheaper edition of "The Universe; or, the Infinitely Great and the Infinitely Little," from the French of Ponchet, with all the illustrations; the new (17th) edition of "Haydn's Dictionary of Dates," revised and extended to the fall of 1881; two new novels in the Transatlantic series—the first, by Katharine S. Macquoid, author of "Patty," etc., entitled "Esau Runswick;" the second, by a new writer entitled "The Dingy House at Kensington;" a new novel in the Knickerbocker series, by Annette L. Noble, author of "Uncle Jack's Executors," entitled "Eunice Lathrop, Spinster;" "The Geological and Mineralogical Resources of the James River Valley of Virginia," with maps and geological sections, by J. L.

Campbell, LL.D.; "Arsiesis," a poem by O. J. Schoolcraft; "Aids to Rational Therapeutics," by Prof. J. M. Fothergill; a treatise on "The Practice of Medicine," by Prof. A. B. Palmer, of the University of Michigan; and "A History of the Naval War of 1812," by Theodore Roosevelt.

NORDENSKJÖLD's recent book will be followed during the present year by several supplementary volumes, containing partly popular essays and observations by the partakers in the Vega expedition, partly strictly scientific treatises respecting the results of the voyage. They will be published at the cost of the Swedish Government.

THE LONGMANS are bringing out two volumes by Dr. Alexander Bain, of Aberdeen, on the Mills, father and son. The volume on James Mill will be an exhaustive biography; that on John Stuart Mill will be a full criticism of his writings and character, coupled with personal recollections and some important family documents.

"STORIES from Browning," say the Academy, "is to be the title of a volume, somewhat like Lamb's 'Tales from Shakspeare,' which Mr. Frederic May Holland, of the United States, the teller of the story of 'Sordello,' has compiled, and which Messrs. George Bell & Sons have, at Mr. Furnivall's instance, agreed to publish in England."

A. HARTLEBEN, of Vienna, says the Academy, "will shortly publish a 'History of Printing,' by Karl Faulmann, which will, it is promised, throw much fresh light on the personality of Gutenberg and on the early history of the art. At the same time the author has not neglected to record the latest improvements of modern printing. The Austrian Government has undertaken to defray the cost of publication."

MR. ANDREW TUER, says the London Literary World, "has printed and published at 'ye Leadenhalle Presse' (Field & Tuer) what we venture to pronounce the most beautiful book of this or any recent season. He has written in an exhaustive manner about Bartolozzi, the engraver in stipple; about his birth, family, friends, disciples, enemies; about the old and new prices given for his works; about prints, and print-collecting, and print sales—about everything, in short, connected with a beautiful art, and a taste which daily becomes more popular."

"MOST persons," says the London Athenæum, "would be surprised to hear of the large numbers of children's books that are sold. The success of Miss Kate Greenaway's 'Birthday-Book' was phenomenal. The recently published picture-book, 'At Home,' has had a somewhat similar success, and before Christmas over 90,000 were subscribed for, a number unprecedented for a five-shilling book of this class. Thanks to L. C.'s verses and the taking pictures, 'Children Busy, Children Glad,' has also had a great run—something over 20,000 copies."

BUSINESS NOTES.

BOSTON, MASS.—Soule & Bugbee have moved into permanent quarters, at 37 Court Street, directly opposite the Court-house. Their store is handsomely fitted out and well stocked with new and second-hand law-books.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—The firm of John Campbell & Son, law and general booksellers and publishers, was dissolved on Dec. 31, by the death of Mrs. M. Campbell. Wm. J. Campbell continues, under his own name, at the old stand, 740 Sansom Street.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—Alexander M. Robertson has retired from the firm of Billings, Harbourn & Co., and has opened a bookstore in Tombstone, Arizona Ter.

SCRIBNER & WELFORD'S NEW BOOKS.

The Selwyn Correspondence. New and Elegantly Printed Edition.

George Selwyn and his Contemporaries.

With Memoirs and Notes by John Heneage Jesse.

With portraits finely engraved on steel. 4 vols., 8vo, cloth extra, $15.

 The correspondence of George Selwyn and his Friends, edited by Mr. Jesse, has become, it is well known to book-buyers, one of the scarcest of modern books. Though it was published no further back than 1843, copies have been of late practically unobtainable, and any occurring at auction were sure to realize in England from £8 to £10, and recently in this city a copy belonging to the late Dr. Chapin brought $75. The present is an exact facsimile reprint of the original in every respect save its superior typographical execution. A special descriptive circular sent on application.

AN INSTANTANEOUS SUCCESS.

We, Von Arldens.

A new novel by EDITH DOUGLAS. 12mo, 487 pp., illustrated. Cloth, side and back stamp. Retail price, $1.25.

"Is a novel which cannot fail to become exceedingly popular with that portion of our people who find in a well-written romance the necessary gold to give a gilt-edged finish to such aspirations as may give a new pleasure to existence."—Albany Post.

"A spicily written story, of powerful grasp and decidedly Western texture. We have been exceedingly favorably impressed with the story, and think our readers will agree with us in this opinion."—Pittsburgh Evening Chronicle.

"It is a very spicy book, bubbling over with wit and repartee of a harmless kind. . . . In fact, the book is a very pleasant pill to take for the blues."—Boston Sunday Herald.

THE SUCCESS OF THE YEAR.

HAMMOCK SERIES, No. 1.

"NO GENTLEMEN."

The brightest, most readable, and entertaining novel of the season. Is issued in elegant style, being printed on fine tinted paper, making a book of 348 pages, bound in fine cloth, with unique side stamp in black and gold, and sold at the low price of $1, by the publishers.

WHAT THE PRESS SAY OF IT.

"We are soon amused, interested, and charmed. Belonging to the class of stories popularly called 'bright,' and published judiciously at the opening of the season of hammocks and piazzas, it is far more readable than most of its kind. The plot is not too much of a plot for a legitimate New England story, and the conversation of 'Jabe' is racy enough to make us forget that we were tired of Yankee dialect, as treated by Mrs. Stowe and Mrs. Whitney. Indeed the book is thoroughly enjoyable."—The Critic, New York.

"Is written in a bright, fresh style, something like that of Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, or more nearly, perhaps, that of the author of Phyllis and Molly Bawn, which is to say much of it. . . . Girl graduates of the present season, into whose hands it falls, will seize upon it, after the first taste, as if it were a rosy and juicy peach; which, so to speak, in a figure, it very nearly is."—Literary World, Boston.

WHAT THE PRESS SAY ABOUT

A Peculiar People;

Or, Romance and Reality. By W. S. BALCH.
An elegant 12mo volume of 458 pp., handsomely bound in cloth, $1.25.

"The recital throughout is spirited, and the book as a whole is one that may be read with pleasure, for the information it imparts and for the profitable reflections to which it gives rise."—Saturday Eve. Gazette, Boston.

"It is interesting and well written."—The Commercial, Cincinnati.

"An entertaining sketch of Oriental travel. It is full of instructive description, historical references, and interesting incidents."—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

"The book will well pay perusal."—Albany Sunday Press.

"There is not a dull page in the book. It will have many admirers."—Daily Monitor, Concord.

THE HAMMOCK SERIES, No. 2.

BARBERINE:

The Story of a Woman's Devotion. A Novel.
One vol., 12mo, 365 pp., cloth, red and gold stamp, $1.

"No one can begin this story without reading it to the end, for there is not a page at which the interest flags, and it is almost impossible not to feel that 'Barberine' was a woman of history, and not of fiction."—N. Y. Herald.

"The plot has to do with a Russian Nihilist conspiracy, and there is enough love, murder, and politics to furnish material for half a dozen novels."—Boston Evening Transcript.

"There is nothing prosy about it in the least, but overflows with a brilliancy that will cause it to be read by thousands."—Commercial Advertiser, Detroit.

"This is a charming novel."—Daily Evening Post, San Francisco.

ROBERT CLARKE & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS FOR 1881.

Morgan's The Shakespearean Myth.

The Shakespearean Myth; or, William Shakespeare and Circumstantial Evidence. By Appleton Morgan, A.M., LL.B., author of "Law of Literature," "Notes to Best's Principles of Evidence," etc., etc. 12mo, $2.

"Under the title 'The Shakespearean Myth,' Mr. Appleton Morgan, who is known as a writer on the 'Law of Literature' and the 'Principles of Evidence,' has collected a large amount of evidence of various kinds to prove that Shakespeare did not write the plays attributed to him. He discusses the theory that they were written by Bacon alone, and the theory that they were written by Bacon and other literary men of that age. The decision to which he comes, and to which he brings facts, satire, criticism, and strong feeling, is that Shakespeare was the editor, and not the author, of the plays. The authors are unknown, but, in all human probability, Bacon was the chief of the group who wrote them, Shakespeare, the rough, uneducated wit, added the coarser and more popular characters and scenes, and it is doubtful whether these liberally edited works can ever be apportioned among the true authors. Mr. Morgan is an enthusiastic admirer of the Shakespeare plays; it is because they are to him the greatest work in all literature, the work 'that will be close to the hearts of every age and cycle of man, till time shall be no more,' that he cannot believe that they were written by one unlettered man, of whom so little is known."—Boston Daily Advertiser.

Gallagher's Poems.

"Miami Woods," "A Golden Wedding on the Rolling Fork of Hardin," "In Exaltis," "Life Pictures," and "Miscellaneous Poems." By William D. Gallagher. 12mo, $2.

"Miami Woods" will take its place among the cherished treasures of English literature. The poem is pure, and true, and beautiful; it comes from the heart, and the common heart of humanity it will find its sure way."—Cincinnati Commercial.

Bell's Cincinnati Water-Works.

A History of the Cincinnati Water-Works. By Thomas J. Bell, Assistant Superintendent. 13 Plates. 8vo, paper, 75c.

A complete history of the water supply of Cincinnati, from the first water-cart, in 1802, to the present time; with descriptions and illustrations of the machinery used and in use, reservoirs, etc.

Russell's Thomas Corwin.

Thomas Corwin: a Sketch. By A. P. Russell, author of "Library Notes." With a finely engraved Portrait of Mr. Corwin. 16mo, $1.

It is a free sketch of a great genius by an acquaintance and admirer. It is not expanded to bigness and dullness by a tedious recital of dry facts and uninteresting incidents, but is confined to such statements, references, and illustrations as give a fair idea of the eminent man's character and genius.

Butterfield's Discovery of the Northwest.

The Discovery of the Northwest in 1634, by John Nicolet; with a Sketch of his Life. By C. W. Butterfield. 12mo, $1.

"This book has a special value to people of this State, as it gives a sketch of the life and the explorations of the first white man who entered within its boundaries. We recommend the work to the teachers who are interested in our early and peculiar history. It is written in a lucid and forcible style, and its statements are substantiated and often carefully explained by copious foot-notes."—Wisconsin Journal of Education.

Lloyd's Chemistry of Medicines.

The Chemistry of Medicines Practical. A Text and Reference Book for the use of Students, Physicians, and Pharmacists. Embodying the Principles of Chemical Philosophy and their application to those chemicals that are used in Medicine and in Pharmacy, including those that are official in the Pharmacopoeia of the United States. With 50 original cuts. By Prof. J. W. Lloyd. 12mo, cloth, $2.75; leather, $3.25.

Henshall's Book of the Black Bass.

Book of the Black Bass; comprising its complete Scientific and Life History, together with a Practical Treatise on Angling and Fly-Fishing, and a full Account of Tools, Tackle and Implements. By Dr. James A. Henshall. Illustrated. 12mo, $3.

"As a practical treatise on black bass and the mode of capture, style of tackle, and all that pertains to the subject, the book may be safely recommended to the angling fraternity of America."—Turf, Field and Farm.

Hassaurek's Spanish Americans.

Four Years among Spanish Americans. By Hon. Fred. Hassaurek, late United States Minister to the Republic of Ecuador. Third Edition. 12mo, $1.50.

"There is scarcely any point as to which the average or the cultivated reader might desire to be informed, that the author has omitted in these graphic pages: the scenery, the cities and towns, the streets, the people, their domestic habits, their religion and politics, their divisions by caste and race, the natural products of the soil, the peculiar botany, the height of mountains, the statistics of earthquakes and eruptions, the native legends, the history of the conquest, the history of independence, glimpses of the present, guesses at the future state of the republic, etc., etc. All these topics are managed without confusion and without dryness."—The Nation.

Hart's Anglo-Saxon Literature.

A Syllabus of Anglo-Saxon Literature. By Prof. J. M. Hart. 8vo, paper, 50c.

"Prof. Hart's short sketch may be recommended as, on the whole, the best introduction to Old English Literature that is accessible to the English reader."—London Academy.

Reemelin's American Politics.

A Critical Review of American Politics. By Charles Reemelin. 8vo, $3.

"He aims at a comprehensive and philosophical course of political reasoning. He regards American party government, with its spoils system, as an illegitimate parasite, more destructive of legitimate public interests, and eating up more of the substance of the people than any tyranny recorded in history."—New York Times.

Bates' Pleadings.

Pleadings, Parties, and Forms under the Code. Adapted to the Statutes of Ohio in force July, 1881, with full Authorities from all States using a Code, and Decisions under the Common Law Practice. By Clement Bates, of the Cincinnati Bar. 2 vols., 8vo, $12.

Pollock on Contracts.

Principles of Contract at Law and in Equity; being a Treatise on the General Principles relating to the Validity of Agreements, with a Special View to the Comparison of Law and Equity. By Frederick Pollock, LL.D. First American from the second English edition. Edited, with Notes and References, by G. H. Wald, of the Cincinnati Bar. 8vo, $6.

Harris' Criminal Law.

Principles of Criminal Law. A Concise Exposition of the Nature of Crime, and the Law of Criminal Procedure. By Seymour F. Harris, B.C.L., M.A., of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law. With Additions and Notes, adapting it to the American Law, by Hon. M. F. Force, Professor of Equity and Criminal Law in the Cincinnati Law School. 8vo, $4.

Giauque's Manual for Guardians.

A Manual for Guardians and Trustees of Minors, Insane Persons, Idiots, Imbeciles, Drunkards, and for Guardians ad litem, Resident and Non-Resident, affected by the Laws of Ohio; with Forms, Notes of Decisions, and Practical Suggestions. By Florian Giauque. 8vo, cloth, $2; sheep, $2.50.

THE FULL CONCORDANCE,

Comprising about Fifty Thousand lines, makes each Quotation immediately accessible.

WHAT REPRESENTATIVE MEN SAY:

Henry W. Longfellow writes:

"I shall often read and enjoy this 'Cyclopædia of Quotations.' I am glad to see that it is so thoroughly furnished with indexes of authors and subjects. It can hardly fail to be a very successful and favorite volume."

George William Curtis writes:

"I congratulate the authors and publishers on the happy completion of a work which must have cost a great deal of labor. It is a handsome volume. . . . Am sure to find it a most serviceable companion."

Oliver Wendell Holmes writes from Boston, Mass.:

"It is a very handsome and immensely laborious work; has cost years to make it. I shall let it lie near my open dictionaries. It is a massive and teeming volume."

Noah Porter, D.D., LL.D., President of Yale College, writes:

"I shall value the book for its own worth, and am confident it will be a help and pleasure to many."

PRICES:—Royal 8vo, over 900 pages, heavy paper, in cloth binding, $5; in sheep, $6.50; in half morocco, $8; in full morocco, $10.

Maj.-Gen. George B. McClellan writes:

"It is the most perfect work of the kind I have yet met with. Should be in every private and public library."

U. S. Senator Edmunds writes:

"It is the most complete and best work of the kind with which I am acquainted. . . . A rich treasury of gems gathered from many fields of literature."

Maj.-Gen. Winfield S. Hancock writes:

"It is a work carefully and intelligently compiled, and of great practical use."

Howard Crosby, D.D., LL.D., writes:

"Is a most valuable adjunct to the reading-table and writing-desk."

Hon. Abram S. Hewitt, M.C., writes:

"A work indispensable to authors, scholars, and speakers. The completeness of the indices is simply astonishing; and the design is so well executed as to leave nothing to be desired on the part of those who may have occasion to find or verify a quotation."

No. 19 Bond Street, New York.

The Publishers' Weekly.

This journal, an independent representative of the American book and kindred interests, is issued weekly from 13 and 15 Park Row, New York, at $3.20 per year, including postage.

Its bibliographical department includes a weekly full-title record of all new American publications, with notes after the title descriptive of the book—a new and most important feature, of practical value to all who use books; monthly finding lists, by authors, titles, and subjects, preceded by a classified summary; lists of the most prominent English and French publications; bibliographical cues to timely topics; and numerous special lists, as the Educational Catalogue. This department is the central feature of the paper, and makes it an indispensable aid to the trade, to libraries, and to literary people. It is believed that no other journal, here or abroad, supplies as practical and satisfactory a record of the publications of its country.

Its literary department includes comprehensive intelligence as to books forthcoming and publishing movements, at home and abroad, gathered with the aid of representatives in other cities; editorial discussions on book and trade subjects, as copyright and postal questions, etc.; original contributions and representative extracts on like topics; besides the usual matter of a class journal.

The subscription of all interested in books is solicited, and sample copies will be sent on application. The addresses of persons interested in book matters are requested.

This journal, in view of the quality of its circulation, and its constant use for daily reference, furnishes, it is believed, the best medium for reaching the book, stationery, and like trades. Advertisements are received at $18 per page; 20 cents per line; terms for repeated insertions on application; Books Wanted, or for Exchange, or Rare and Second-hand Books for Sale, 10 cents per line; Situations Wanted, free insertion of five lines. THE Enclosure Catalogue.

The first section of the "ENCLOSURE CATALOGUE" is now ready, and editions can be supplied. It is published under the title of

THE

BOOKS OF ALL TIME,

A Guide for the Purchase of Books,

COMPILED BY

and consists of the works, with their sizes and prices (but not names of publishers), of such standard English and American writers as are most in demand by private buyers. To the works of each writer are appended notes by the best critical authorities of England and America, descriptive of the author and his writings, pointing out their characteristics, influences, excellences, etc. The Catalogue thus forms a compact and novel manual of classical English literature, which must stimulate the sale of such books as dealers generally carry in stock.

It is a 32mo of 80 pages, and will be supplied dealers folded for them to bind with covers and imprints to suit their own taste or special wants. This will give them an opportunity to use the covers or some extra pages for their own card, or partly for local advertisements, which might be made to more than cover the expense of an edition. [The publisher cannot, at this season, undertake to fill any orders for imprints or advertisements.] Space is left on the title-page for a hand-stamp for those who can only dispose of smaller numbers. Send stamp for sample copies.

 A Special Edition, printed on larger and thicker paper, has been issued for retailing purposes, in neat paper covers, at ten cents. Special discount on quantities.

Booksellers who may not use imprint editions of this valuable bookselling assistant should keep copies of both the "Reading Diary" (price, in paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents; Russia, $1) and "Books of All Time" for sale on their counters, and thus serve at once their own and their customers' interests.

A

of Modern Fiction.

Containing a representative list of the novels of the nineteenth century, preceded by suggestive remarks on novels and novel-reading.

The object of this "Reading Diary" is to present a survey of all that is considered worth reading in the domain of modern fiction, and thus to make easy a daily record of what has been read, and what to read next, with a view to comparing notes and a mutual exchange of recommendations among congenial friends. It also is to serve as a check-list or guide to the choice of books at the book-store. For this purpose it presents a select list of over one thousand of the best works of modern fiction, with blank facing pages for additions or memoranda.

So capital an aid in the choice of novels cannot but increase the purchase of novels, and hence the little book, while proving a valuable assistant to the reader, will, by making purchasers, result in direct benefit to the bookseller, and it will be well worth the while of every live bookseller to supply himself with copies of the Reading Diary, to call the attention of his customers to it, and to push its sale.

It is issued in 32mo (160 pages), diary style, suitable for the pocket, and is as neat and attractive in appearance as it is useful in contents and novel in plan. It is, as indicated on the title-page, for sale by Booksellers only. Retail price, paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents; Russia, gilt edges, $1. Order through your Jobbers.

Booksellers, who may not use imprint editions of this valuable bookselling assistant, should keep copies of both the "Reading Diary" and "Books of all Time" for sale on their counters, and thus serve at once their own and their publishers' interests.

1882. VALENTINES 1882.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

WE hereby beg leave to announce to the Trade the completion of our line of Valentines for 1882, which we think will compare very favorably even with our line of Christmas Cards, which in so high a degree met with the approval of the Trade.

Assortment.—Our Valentines are put up in envelopes or boxes containing 12 cards, unless the quality is otherwise specified. The assortment is made up of the different designs contained in the series, and as no series has 12 different designs, the designs are more or less repeated. Our Satin Print and Silk-trimmed Valentines are carefully packed, each in a neat box. Prices range from 35 cents a dozen to $5 list a piece.

Envelopes.—We furnish envelopes, without extra charge, for all cards in this line costing $1.80 per set or over.

Silk-fringed Cards.—All fringed Valentines come provided with protectors and envelopes, to insure safe transmission through the mails, and are made up with assorted colors of fringes. We would call attention to these attractive cards, which are made up with the best quality of HEAVY SILK FRINGE, especially made for us.

Show Cards supplied to the trade with orders.

Special attention is called to our SATIN PRINT AND SILK TRIMMED VALENTINES, each carefully packed in a neat box.

122 F.—Four-Figure Designs, same as Series 115, printed on satin and richly trimmed with silk and fancy fringes. Price, each $3.

123 F.—Two-Figure Designs, same as Series 117, printed on satin and richly trimmed with silk and fancy fringes. This series is especially appropriate for older people, for husband or wife. Price, each $3.50.

124 D F.—Two-Figure Designs, folding, same as Series 121 D F, richly trimmed with silk and fancy fringes and tassels. Price, each $5.

Of all Valentines costing $3 per set and over, we are ready to break sets, if so desired.

REGULAR DISCOUNTS TO THE TRADE FROM ABOVE PRICES.

Besides the above, attention is called to our NEW BIRTHDAY CARDS, ARTISTIC PLAQUES, and other Art Publications
OUR LINE OF EASTER CARDS WILL SHORTLY BE ANNOUNCED.

Insanity and its Treatment.

Lectures on the Treatment of Insanity and kindred Nervous Diseases. By SAMUEL WORCESTER, M.D., Salem, Mass. Lecturer on Insanity, Nervous Diseases, and Dermatology, at Boston University School of Medicine, etc., etc. 462 p., 8vo, cloth, $3.50.

"The lectures which form the basis of the present volume were first prepared and delivered before the Senior Class of the Boston University School of Medicine, in the Winter of 1879-80. They were revised and again delivered at the session of 1880-81. Additions and changes have been made, and the book is now given, not as a complete text-book, but as containing a fairly correct summary of our present knowledge of insanity and its homœopathic treatment."—From the Author's Preface.

The Homœopathic Therapeutics of Diarrhœa,

Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, and all other Loose Evacuations of the Bowels; by James B. Bell, M.D. Second Edition. By Drs. BELL and LAIRD. Pp. 275, 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"Bell's first edition of 'Therapeutics of Diarrhœa' has been acknowledged as a most reliable and trustworthy work at the bedside by all who diligently, individualizingly used it, and now this second, revised and enlarged edition will be a Godsend to our younger brethren, especially at this season of the year."—From North American Journal of Homœopathy.

Hart on Diseases of the Nervous System.

409 pp., 8vo, cloth, $3.

"This work supplies a need keenly felt in our school—a work which will be useful alike to the general practitioner and specialist: containing, as it does, not only a condensed compilation of the views of the best authorities on the subject treated, but also the author's own clinical experience; to which is appended the appropriate homœopathic treatment of each disease. It is written in an easy, flowing style; at the same time there is no waste of words. . . . We consider the work a highly valuable one, bearing the evidence of hard work, considerable research, and experience."—From the Medico-Chirurgical Quarterly.

Special Pathology and Diagnostics, with Therapeutic Hints.

By C. G. RAUE, M.D. Second Edition, re-written and enlarged, containing 400 pages more than the first edition. 1072 p., 8vo, bound in half morocco, $7.

"The second edition of this book is so much enlarged and improved that it is in reality in a good measure new. The part devoted to therapeutics has been enlarged, facts being freely drawn from the writer's own large experience and from the rich stores of literature which have been given to the public within the past few years. We cordially welcome the work of Dr. Raue as not only a scientific, but thoroughly practical book and altogether the best in general therapeutics which has for many years been presented to the public."—Medical Times.

Ophthalmic Therapeutics.

By GEORGE S. HORTON, M.D., Professor of Ophthalmology in the College of the New York Ophthalmic Hospital, Senior Surgeon of the New York Ophthalmic Hospital, Ophthalmic and Aural Surgeon to the Homœopathic Hospital on Ward's Island. With an Introduction by Prof. T. F. Allen, M.D. Second Edition, re-written and revised, with copious additions, 342 pp., 8vo, cloth, $2.50.

JUST PUBLISHED :

ON THE

DIVINE LITURGY

IN THE

BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER.

By GEORGE W. HUNTER.

12mo, cloth, 85 cents. Paper, 60 cents.

The above contains a comparison of "The Prayer of Consecration" in the American Prayer-Book, with that of St. Clement, which is the oldest of all, with that of Rome, and with those of the English Church of 1662 and 1549. The surprising excellence of the American form is shown. The analogy between the worship of the old covenant and that of the new is also pointed out.
